Unknown Author : Rambles at Home, Being a Tour to a Few of the Principal Manufacturing Towns of England: To the Lakes of Westmoreland and Cumberland, and a Visit to Edinburgh in the Summer of 1839 (Classic Reprint) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Rambles at Home, Being a Tour to a Few of the Principal Manufacturing Towns of England: To the Lakes of Westmoreland and Cumberland, and a Visit to Edinburgh in the Summer of 1839 (Classic Reprint):

Excerpt from Rambles at Home, Being a Tour to a Few of the Principal Manufacturing Towns of England: To the Lakes of Westmoreland and Cumberland, and a Visit to Edinburgh in the Summer of 1839 Rochdale, like all other manufacturing towns, is a very radical place, and was in a state of much excitement whilst I was there they were polling for church rates, or no church rates, and an outbreak was Of course expected. The military were in barracks under arms, ready to act, if necessary and the church-yard, which stands on a some what precipitous hill, was completeiy thronged with peo ple, but a single charge of infantry would have sent them rolling down the slope in great and glorious confusion. All however, passed off tolerably quiet, and the Conservatives carried it by a majority of only six. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
