From Pastime Publications (GB) : Scotland for Fishing 2002 before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Scotland for Fishing 2002:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Very happy. Good book with all the right infoBy Clayton PopickVery happy. Good book with all the right info. Was a great trip to Scotland. Toured distillarys and caught brown trout. Worth the money if you are planning some fishing. Bring a rain jacket

Scotland for Fishing offers an essential guide to all the top stillwater fisheries, rivers, and lakes for game fishermen, coarse anglers, and sea anglers from both shore and boat. An analysis of the main saltwater competition venues is also included with detailed tips from the experts on tackle, rigs, and fish-catching baits. The gazetteer has up-to-date information about requirements to get on the water, where permits can be obtained, etc. Some of those secret places we all hear about but can never find are revealed.

From the Publisher After two years spent revitalising this title and working closely with new editor, Mike Shepley, we are delighted to be able to offer a guide we believe to be truly unique – a comprehensive, perceptive and helpful insight to fishing Scotland's magnificent waters. We truly believe any angler will find this book essential and an invaluable aid to their pursuit of the sport! From the Inside Flap Directory - all you need to know to get on the water Scotland's premier rainbow trout stillwater fisheries Where to find Scotland's tackle busting porbeagle shark and halibut Value for money salmon and sea trout fishing Wild brownies of the Highlands and Islands Sea angling festivals around the coast Orkney Isles - superb sea angling and wonderful trout fishing Where to stay: Fishing Inns and Hotels About the Author Mike Shepley, in his competitive sea angling days, held the SFSA Scottish Open, NFSA British National and EFSA European Boat Championships individual titles. Author of books on coarse fishing and salmon, his favourite sport is fly fishing for salmon, sea trout and trout.
