Ordnance Survey : Southern Scotland Northumberland (OS Road 3) (OS Road Map) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Southern Scotland Northumberland (OS Road 3) (OS Road Map):

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. The South of Scotland...By HMS Warspite Ordnance Survey publishes maps of the United Kingdom in a variety of scales. The Road Traveler Series provides regional coverage at a 1:250,000 scale. There are a total of eight sheets for the whole of Britain. Road Travel Map #3 is "Southern Scotland Northumberland." The coverage of Map #3 begins at its northern margin in Central Scotland, along a line roughly between Dundee on the North Sea coast and Tobermory in the West Highlands. Coverage continues south to a line across the North of England between Durham and Carlisle. This map includes most of the Isle of Mull, Jura, and Arran in West Scotland. It also includes the major Scottish urban areas of Glasgow and Edinburgh. The urban coverage does not go to individual street level. The scale and multicolored presentation permit road planning and navigation between major population centers and an appreciation of the terrain. The map includes a handy place names index to locate any of the numerous small towns and villages scattered across southern Scotland. Map symbology is sufficiently detailed to point out items of tourist interest such as castles, vistas, and camping grounds. The map does not offer enough detail for cross-country or over water travel. There are other Ordnance Survey products for those needs. Ordnance Survey Road Travel Map #3: Southern Scotland Northumberland" is very highly recommended to travelers and others needing a large scale regional map for planning and road navigation purposes.

The OS Roadmaps series are single sided folded maps, the 8 maps provide GB 1: 250 000 coverage to enable the end user to navigate and plan their road journey. The maps include all motorways, primary routes and A roads plus detailed tourist information including National Parks, Country Parks and World Heritage sites and a useful town and city gazetteer. The eight maps in the series are Northern Scotland, Orkney Shetland, Western Scotland and the Western Isles, Southern Scotland and Northumberland, Northern England, East Midlands and East Anglia, Wales/Cymru and West Midlands, South West England and South East England.

About the Author Ordnance Survey is Britain's national mapping agency, responsible for the official, definitive mapping of the whole country. They produce and market a wide range of maps for educational and leisure purposes, as well as producing computer data products for government, business and administrative use.
